ANOTHER TRAGEDY

MASKED mob, contravening A the law, with only the excuse that a certain family was operating a still, set forth on an unlawful mission in a suburb of Los Angeles.

A constable, masquerading with this is not done, the improvement of days and your kidneys will then act the mob, was shot to death. A marshal, seeking to check the mob. was wounded. A deputy constable, son of the dead constable, also of the raiding masqueraders, was wounded.

The kleagle of the Ku Klux Klan raises the same old cry—the Klan is not responsible.

But the fact that a secret organization exists, and maintaing that it has the right to carry on its organized efforts disguised and masked, make the Klan a party to this and every similar tragic escapade.

The Klan holds that because of its high motives it is entitled to The First Application Makes privileges. To carry out its purposes it declares it members must be allowed to work in secrecy and in disguise.

If this privilege is allowed one group, it cannot be denied any group, and we are forced to the absurd conclusion that the Los Angeles mob was within its rights; that all mob violence is right. Such a conclusion sets aside the law. It creates anarchy. The keystone of civilization is withdrawn and the whole structure of law and order collapses

Hasn't this tragic farce gone far enough? How many more lives must be sacrificed before official action is taken to prevent this ridiculous attempt to erect a supergovernment, an invisible empire,

Without other reason, the secrecy, the masks, the anonymous warnings, are sufficient to condemn the Ku Klux Klan. Burrowing in the dark, cowardice that refuses to stand in the light and support conviction, is repugnant to American governmental ideals, and foreign to the Anglo-Saxon traditions which the Klan declares it is created to foster and uphold.

The president of the United tates says he heartily disapproves of the Ku Klux Klan. Then why oesn't the government of the United that Mr. Smith had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv. States says he heartily disapproves of the Ku Klux Klan. Then why doesn't the government of the United States stamp out the organization before more lives are sacrificed, if not by its acts at least through its example?

"THE POOR SIMP,"A POLITE COMEDY-STRAND TONIGHT

The name of Owen Moore has become synonymous with that new variety of comedy that has taken the American theatergoing public by storm. Some people call it "polite comedy"-it's really comedy drama. depending for its humor on complications wherein the hero is wrong every time he is right. It inspires sympathy for the hero-and makes that sympathy expressible in laugh-

In such a comedy as this, called "The Poor Simp," Owen Moore is to appear at the Strand theater tonight.

The story deals with the rather surprising adventures of a rich young American who leaves his fiancee and her mother to attend to a trifling errand, and runs into a street fight and right out of the picture. He finds himself in a taxi with a beautiful unknown young woman and a gang-

By the cyclonic development of plot, the young American finds himself deserted by fiances, and himself under the shadow of sudden and mysterious death. Then—the clouds part, but not without many laughproducing incidents.
